Headline:
Turning unsettled and showery this weekend and into next week.

Today:
Generally cloudy through the day, with showers or prolonged rain moving north across all parts, some heavy and perhaps thundery. Showers perhaps less frequent in the late afternoon, with sunny spells developing. Rather warm but feeling humid. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:
A largely dry night. Any showers will die out during the evening, followed by clear spells and patchy cloud, allowing mist and fog patches to form in places. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Sunday:
Sunshine and showers, these frequent and occasionally heavy with a risk of thunder. Showers perhaps merging into longer spells of rain later. Warm though feeling humid. Cooler along the coast. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Scattered showers on Monday. Drier, brighter in the afternoon. Cloudy with prolonged rain on Tuesday, occasionally heavy. Breezy and mostly cloudy with rain or showers on Wednesday, perhaps heavy.
